Introduction

This guide is a supplement to your Supported Housing Handbook and in it you will find information on local services including benefits offices, advice and drop-in centres, education and training, health services, police stations, post offices, libraries, places of worship, leisure, transport, services for lesbians, gay men and bisexual and transgender people, as well as emergency numbers.

More than 175,000 people live and work in Islington. The community feel in Islington is what makes this borough so unique.

There is a wealth of things to see and do in Islington. Whether it is catching a new play at one of the borough's pub theatres, taking in world-renowned dance at Sadler's Wells, or watching Arsenal at Highbury Stadium, there is something for everyone in Islington. The bars and restaurants of Upper Street and surrounding areas are famous throughout London, with varied menus and prices to suit everyone's taste. And with music clubs dotted around the borough, Islington is also a great place to catch live music.

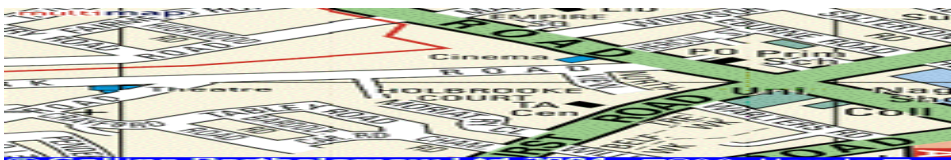

If you prefer to get out and exercise, Islington has 127 parks, open spaces and playgrounds, including Islington Green and Highbury Fields, tucked away behind frantic Highbury Corner. We also have leisure centres at Archway and Finsbury, swimming pools on Highbury Crescent and Ironmonger Row and a tennis club on Market Road. If shopping is your thing, Islington has no shortage of boutiques and individual shops. For the larger stores, we also have the bustling N1 Centre and antiques at Camden Passage.

This information was collated in November 2004, and will be updated annually in order to keep you up-to-date with changes in Islington. If there is anything else you would like included in this guide please let your Supported Housing Officer know and we will do our best to include it in the next edition.
